

Commercial Litigation

Recognized for representing clients in the nation's most high-profile and complex litigation matters.

Holtzman Vogel's Litigation Group attorneys are recognized for successfully representing clients in the nation's most high-profile and complex litigation matters. Clients seek our litigation group's unique expertise to successfully navigate large stakes litigation and meet strategic goals around a wide variety of issues.

Our attorneys represent clients in state and federal trial courts, before state and federal administrative agencies, and in arbitrations and mediations. Our focus is on winning, while meeting client goals and protecting clients' reputation and resources. Unlike other firms, Holtzman Vogel's attorneys are not afraid to take clients' cases to trial when it is in the client's best interest.

Our clients include:

- Agriculture companies
- Corporations
- High net worth individuals and property owners
- Nonprofit and tax-exempt entities
- Oil & gas companies
- Political parties, political campaigns, candidates, and elected officeholders
- Professional services firms, including consulting firms and lobbying firms
- Real estate companies, including developers and contractors
- Shipping companies
- Utilities

Our litigation attorneys have represented clients in complex commercial litigation matters, including class actions and multidistrict litigation, spanning a broad mix of areas of the law including:

- Admiralty law
- Business torts

- Campaign finance law
- Constitutional law
- Consumer financial protection law, including Telephone Consumer Protection Act litigation and defending state attorneys general investigations and prosecutions
- Contracts law
- Corporate law, including business divorces and dissolution
- Election law
- Energy law
- Insurance law
- Political law
- Real estate, environmental and land use law
- Tax law