Angela Bell

Director of Administration

Angela Bell serves as Director of Administration at Holtzman Vogel, overseeing human resources, benefits, onboarding and offboarding, and facilities management across all firm offices. Angie brings a rare mix of operational discipline and institutional knowledge that keeps day-to-day firm life running smoothly.

Angie's background spans government and the private sector. She served in the Virginia Senate as a legislative aide and Chief of Staff, working closely with the Governor's office, legislators, and outside groups. She later moved into government affairs as an account manager at a D.C.-based firm, advising clients on lobbying campaigns and compliance matters, and served as a human resources director.

Angie's blend of political experience, compliance knowledge, and operational leadership makes her an indispensable part of the firm's infrastructure. Colleagues rely on her ability to navigate complexity, whether managing a firm-wide initiative, coordinating across offices, or quietly resolving the kinds of problems that could otherwise derail a team's work.
