

Washington, D.C. Office

202-737-8808

kmurphy@holtzmanvogel.comKaitlin Murphy*Director of Operations, DC Office

Kaitlin Murphy is Holtzman Vogel's Director of Operations for the Washington, DC office. In that capacity, she manages the office, tracks political giving and lobbying spending by our clients and their competitors, oversees the firm's preclearance process for political contributions and independent expenditures, and manages other special projects on behalf of the firm and our clients.

Before joining the firm, Kaitlin was the Executive Director at a political law firm, and co-founded FPPCO, an impact investment advisory company that uses data-based metrics to maximize investments in political reform. Prior to that, she was a member of the communications team at Americans Elect, Chief of Staff to the development team at Fund for the Republic, and a project management consultant with The Webster Group with responsibility for the Congressional Medal of Honor Foundation and Chesapeake Crescent Initiative.

Education

- Colgate University, B.A., Art History
- Association for Research into Crimes Against Art, International Masters Degree, Art Crimes and Cultural Heritage Preservation in Italy